FINANCIAL ANALYSIS OF THE CITY OF RICHMOND GENERAL OBLIGATION BOND MEASURE FOR FIRE STATION IMPROVEMENTS (NOVEMBER 3, 2026) – MEASURE Q

Finance Director's statement on the fiscal impact of this Measure:

If approved by voters, this Measure would authorize the City of Richmond to issue up to $120 million in general obligation bonds to finance capital improvements to fire stations and related public safety facilities. Projects eligible for funding include the repair, reconstruction, modernization, and seismic improvement of aging and deteriorating fire stations; renovation of firefighter living quarters; replacement of electrical, roofing, and plumbing systems; and other upgrades necessary to support rapid 911 emergency medical and fire response. Bond proceeds may be used only for voter-approved capital improvements and related eligible costs.

Debt service on the bonds would be repaid exclusively from a voter-approved ad valorem property tax, not from the City's General Fund. Based on current assessed valuation projections, the City estimates the following tax rates associated with repayment:

- Estimated average annual tax rate:
  $22.15 per $100,000 of assessed valuation.
- Estimated highest annual tax rate:
  $24.06 per $100,000 of assessed valuation, anticipated beginning in fiscal year 2028.
- Estimated total debt service (principal + interest):
  $249,749,206 over the life of the bonds.

Actual tax rates may vary depending on changes in assessed valuation, interest rates at the time of each bond sale, and the timing and amount of bonds issued.

Bond proceeds will be deposited in a separate account dedicated to the authorized projects. Expenditures will be subject to annual independent audits, annual reporting to the City Council, and oversight by a community oversight committee. Completion of all identified projects is not guaranteed if total project costs exceed available bond proceeds.

This fiscal analysis is prepared in accordance with Richmond Municipal Code Section 2.16.070 and applicable provisions of the California Elections Code. It is informational only and does not advocate for or against the Measure.
