Rebuttal to Argument Against Measure T

Measure T is not a new tax; Yes on Measure T renews existing funding dedicated to programs such as 5th grade Outdoor Education, library services for all students, and a mental health counselor. If Measure T does not pass, we will have to cut an additional $1.4 million from our schools.

Accountability safeguards such as a citizens' oversight committee, public spending disclosures, and annual audits have and will continue to ensure responsible use of these dedicated funds.

Pacifica schools are consistently among the lowest-funded per student, forcing teachers and classified staff to repeatedly fight for fair compensation. In San Mateo County, an annual income of $117,500 for an individual is considered low income, yet Pacifica teachers start at just $57,000, while classified staff and librarians earn even less.

Pacifica students need thriving local educators, not a revolving door of teachers leaving our community for a living wage in other districts. If we expect students to perform better in school, we must retain qualified teachers, preserve counselors and librarians. Libraries play a critical role in building literacy, strengthening reading comprehension, and giving students the skills they need to succeed across every subject.

The author of the argument against Measure T does not live in the Pacifica community, routinely opposes school ballot measures and cherry-picks facts. He doesn't have students in our schools, and he should not speak for Pacificans. We can give Pacifica's children the strong educational foundation they deserve by voting Yes on Measure T.
