Yes on Measure Y
Ballot Argument

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF MEASURE Y

Vote YES on Measure Y to give Benicia voters the limited legal authority needed for Measure Z—while keeping Benicia's existing form of government intact.

Measure Y is deliberately narrow.

- It creates a limited City Charter for one purpose: allowing Benicia voters to approve the real property transfer tax in Measure Z.

- Measure Y does not impose that tax by itself. Measure Z takes effect only if Benicia voters approve both measures.

Measure Y does NOT create a broad new charter government. Benicia keeps its existing council-manager form of government, and all other City powers continue to be governed by California general law. The Charter does NOT give the City Council new authority to raise its own compensation. And the Charter itself can only be amended by Benicia voters.

Why does this matter?

Benicia faces major changes ahead, including new development and redevelopment that will place additional demands on roads, public safety, infrastructure, parks and other essential City services.

- Measure Y gives local voters the ability to decide whether the property-transfer-tax structure in Measure Z should help meet those needs.

- Measure Y keeps that decision where it belongs: with Benicia voters.

Measure Y is limited. It is transparent. It preserves Benicia's existing government. And it gives voters—not City Hall alone—the final say over Measure Z.

To protect local decision-making while keeping strong voter safeguards in place, vote YES on Measure Y.

And to put the locally controlled funding proposal into effect, vote YES on Measure Z.
