COUNTY OF FRESNO
FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT
TRANSIENT OCCUPANCY TAX

This ballot measure asks the electorate to impose a transient occupancy tax on occupants of hotels, motels, short-term rentals, and other lodging within the Fresno County unincorporated areas at a rate of twelve percent (12%). If this measure passes, the County of Fresno estimates the annual revenue from this tax to be $4,500,000. The revenue from this tax will go toward Fresno County's general fund and may be used for any general governmental purpose. These include public safety, wildfire/disaster response, 911, road maintenance, behavioral and public health, water infrastructure, park, and other public services.

The one-time cost of implementing this tax, including establishing a collection system and registering operators, is estimated to be $50,000. Ongoing administrative costs, including staff time for collection and enforcement, are estimated to be $130,000 annually. Ongoing annual costs could decrease in subsequent years once the program is fully implemented, including establishment of the collection system, operator registration processes, and related notices.

If this measure passes, the transient occupancy room tax will be effective January 1, 2027 and would continue in effect until changed or repealed.

If this measure does not pass, there will be no fiscal impact as the County of Fresno does not currently have a transient occupancy tax.
