Rebuttal to Argument in Favor of Measure

Vote NO on Measure E.

Shasta County voters already voted NO on an identical proposal, Measure P, in November 2024, with over 50% voting against it.

This proposed charter amendment is unnecessary and could unintentionally weaken Shasta County's ability to protect the public interest.

California law already places significant limits on the government's use of eminent domain. The still very new charter should have time to mature before changes are made. Measure E does not fully consider expert opinions, legal implications, or long-term impacts on county operations and services, or costs.

Given that state law already addresses the misuse of eminent domain, Measure E's additional restrictions could create more problems than they solve, ultimately impeding local progress and community well-being.

Again, importantly, Shasta County voters already rejected an identical proposal, Measure P, in November 2024, with over 50% voting against it.

A blanket prohibition could therefore limit the County's flexibility to respond to future needs that cannot reasonably be anticipated today.
Please vote NO on Measure E.
